David Bradford

Dave Bradford is a UW grad with degrees in medicine and business who speaks regionally to history and genealogy groups about technology and medical topics. He has been a member of the Rock County Genealogical Society and the Sheboygan County Historical Research Center for more than 20 years and has served as board chairperson and secretary of the RCGS. He is currently the long term webmaster for the Society. He and Janet Bradford have indexed multiple atlases, plat maps and out of print historical books. Along with many others, David assisted with the renovation of the Charles Tallman home in Janesville which serves as the current Library and Archives for the Rock County Genealogical and Historical Societies. He was awarded the Wisconsin Genealogy Society's Virginia V. Irvin genealogy award in 2012.

Randi Ramsden

Randi Ramsden is the National Digital Newspaper Program Coordinator at the Wisconsin Historical Society. Her article "Shaping Identity: The History of German-Language Newspapers in Wisconsin" was published in the Fall 2016 issue of the Wisconsin Magazine of History.
